

The Donkey's Journey

*A donkey gray, with gentle pace,
Through starry night and time's embrace
Trode softly down the rugged way,
To Bethlehem that sacred day.
Upon his back a burden mild,
A mother and her unborn child,
He bore them through the weary lands,
Led by faith and guiding hands.
The town at rest, no room was bare,
Yet hope and love were cradled there
The donkey stood, his journey done,
Beneath the light of heaven's Son.*

On behalf of our TMR family, we extend warm wishes to you and all your loved ones—both those with two legs and those with four. Merry Christmas! May this joyous season be filled with peace and delight, and may the New Year bring prosperity!
